Living Word Men's Ministry

-Matt DeVries, Men's Ministry Leader (315) 589-2870

A Night To Remember

When Matt DeVries told me about the "Steak In Your Face" dinner I thought to myself that this could be interesting. It turned out to be more than just interesting. Obviously this was a great opportunity to share God's message with others. So with this thought in mind I invited my older brother and a close friend to come with me. After some grunts and groans both agreed to go. I wondered what to expect and even more wondered what they would think. I was excited for others to feel the love of Christ especially because I have recently been touched profoundly by his grace. Sharing this was my only thought. The night started with great food and I mean great! Our famous cooks at Living Word more than impressed my two guests, Bravo Guys! After dinner we enjoyed fantastic singing and music by Dave Bullard. As I looked at my brother and friend listening to the song I could tell thoughts were racing through their heads. Soon after, we were watching the men from the "The In Your Face Players" theatrical group up on stage do even more thought provoking skits. These were well done and well received by the audience. You can tell the desire by these men to serve God by their hard work and ability to share the message through drama. This takes guts. The most important and absolute tremendously "in your face" moment came at Pastor Barden's closing and prayer. If some crazy way how you could have possibly misunderstood or missed the message that the players portrayed you would soon have NO doubt what it was. Pastor Barden gave a message that was remarkable. What I believe were the words truly from God spoken through the Pastor's lips was the answer to all questions and confusion. You could not deny the call that God was making. It was like getting hit upside the head with a bat and it worked. My brother and friend could only ask question after question on the ride home. A week later my friend will not stop talking about it, which only means the seed has been sowed and I expect the growth that started to continue. Thank you to all who worked very hard giving us all a night to remember.
